Response To Applicant's Comments

Receipt of a 130, 131 or 132 affidavit is herein being acknowledged. Further, it appears here that the Applicant needs to file "a correction of filing receipt" or "a correction in inventorship" in order to remove Mr. Brooks' name as a co-inventor. Otherwise, his name will continue to be associated with the Instant Application. Finally, the Examiner approves the amendment made to the specification to thereby claim priority.

Detailed Action

Specification

The title of the invention is not descriptive so as to help one having ordinary skills in the art understand the nature of the subject matter. A new title is required that is clearly indicative of the invention to which the claims are directed.

Claim Status

Claims 1-8 are pending in the Application.

General Comments

Briefly stated, the step of providing a winning status to an individual, as recited in claims 1 and 7, upon placing the camouflaged game piece in proximity to a light source of a computer screen is rather premature or lacks antecedent basis since the claims never mention, including in the preambles, that the game piece was associated with some type of sweepstakes, contest, etc.

Double Patenting

A rejection based on double patenting of the "same invention" type finds its support in the language of 35 U.S.C. 101 which states that "whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process... may obtain a patent therefor ..." (Emphasis added). Thus, the term "same invention," in this context, means an invention drawn to identical subject matter. See Miller v. Eagle Mfg. Co., 151 U.S. 186 (1894); In re Ockert, 245 F.2d 467, 114 USPQ 330 (CCPA 1957); and In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970).

A statutory type (35 U.S.C. 101) double patenting rejection can be overcome by canceling or amending the conflicting claims so they are no longer coextensive in scope. The filing of a terminal disclaimer cannot overcome a double patenting rejection based upon 35 U.S.C. 101.

Claims 1-8 of the Instant Application are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 as claiming the same invention as that of claims 1-8 of prior U.S. Patent No. 6,629,888B1. This is a statutory double patenting rejection.
